Introduction

Although Congress created the world's first national park, Yellowstone, in 1872 by setting aside over 2 million acres as a public park under the control of the Secretary of the Interior, the concept of a system to conserve and protect a wide variety of our natural and cultural resources nationwide evolved slowly. A growing interest in preserving not only the great scenic wonders of the American West but the sites and structures associated with early Native American cultures led to passage in 1906 of the Antiquities Act which authorized the President "to declare by public proclamation [as national monuments] historic landmarks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest." With the creation of the National Park Service in 1916, Congress established a national conservation agency with the primary responsibility of promoting and regulating its Federally-owned lands in a manner that would "leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations." With the enactment of the Historic Sites Act of 1935, the preservation mandate of the National Park Service was extended to include historic properties not owned or administered by the Federal government.

Subsequent Federal historic preservation law is grounded in these early concepts of conserving cultural resources for the benefit of future generations and focuses on the identification, designation, and protection of historic districts, sites, buildings, structures and objects across the country. Since 1966 when the seminal National Historic Preservation Act was passed, over a dozen major pieces of Federal preservation legislation have been enacted.

Because of the variety and number of Federal statutes that contain some historic preservation component irrespective of their primary focus, this publication cannot attempt to be a comprehensive guide to Federal historic preservation law. However, it does bring together the major Federal historic preservation laws that govern a national program to coordinate and support public and private efforts to identify, evaluate, and protect our historic and archeological resources. Many of these laws are administered by the National Park Service in cooperation with the State Historic Preservation Offices and local governments. Those administered by other Federal agencies are identified in the appropriate section. Questions concerning implementation and interpretation of the laws included in this publication should be addressed to the appropriate office of the National Park Service or relevant Federal agency.

This publication updates the 1989-1990 booklet to include both the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act and the 1992 amendments to the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966.

Laws Governing National Historic Preservation Programs

The Historic Sites Act of 1935 established that "it is a national policy to preserve for public use historic sites, buildings, and objects of national significance for the inspiration and benefit of the people of the United States," and gave the Secretary of the Interior broad powers to conduct a national historic preservation program. Until the 1960s this preservation program included study, documentation, and designation of nationally significant sites, regulation of the removal of archeological resources from Federally-owned land, acquisition of privately-owned historic properties, preservation of historic sites on Federal land, and assistance to a number of specific Federal agencies with programs that might adversely affect historic properties. Despite these efforts, there was a growing recognition and concern that great numbers of historic resources of less than national significance were being lost.

Consequently, the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 was enacted and immediately became the basic Federal law governing preservation of historic and archeological resources of national, regional, state, and local significance. Amended most recently in 1992 to include the key provisions of Executive Order 11593 and to provide greater decision-making authority to State and local governments, it is the legal basis for the Federal Government's principal historic preservation activities, including the National Register of Historic Places, the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, technical preservation assistance, and the Historic Preservation Fund. In 1992 amendments to the National Historic Preservation Act codified Federal agency responsibilities for stewardship of historic properties under their jurisdiction. The 1992 amendments encourage the tribal governments of American Indians, Alaska Natives or Native Hawaiians to participate in administering the Federal preservation program by assuming functions of State Historic Preservation Offices, by nominating traditional religious and cultural properties to the National Register of Historic Places, and by applying for grants to preserve cultural heritage. This legislation also established a national center for preservation technology and training to develop and facilitate cultural resource preservation training and to facilitate the transfer of preservation technology among government agencies, universities, international organizations and the private sector. In short, this basic Federal preservation law is the underlying structural basis of a national program to coordinate and support public and private efforts to identify, evaluate, and protect our historic and archeological resources.

AN ACT To establish a program for the preservation of additional historic properties throughout the nation, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

16 U.S.C. 470
Short title

SEC. 1 (a) This Act may be cited as the "National Historic Preservation Act."

Purpose of the Act

(b) The Congress finds and declares that-

- (1) the spirit and direction of the Nation are founded upon and reflected in its historic heritage;
- (2) the historical and cultural foundations of the Nation should be preserved as a living part of our community life and development in order to give a sense of orientation to the American people;
- (3) historic properties significant to the Nation's heritage are being lost or substantially altered, often inadvertently, with increasing frequency;
- (4) the preservation of this irreplaceable heritage is in the public interest so that its vital legacy of cultural, educational, aesthetic, inspirational, economic, and energy benefits will be maintained and enriched for future generations of Americans;
- (5) in the face of ever-increasing extensions of urban centers, highways, and residential, commercial, and industrial developments, the present governmental and nongovernmental historic preservation programs and activities are inadequate to insure future generations a genuine opportunity to appreciate and enjoy the rich heritage of our Nation;
- (6) the increased knowledge of our historic resources, the establishment of better means of identifying and administering them, and the encouragement of their preservation will improve the planning and execution of federal and federally assisted projects and will assist economic growth and development; and
- (7) although the major burdens of historic preservation have been borne and major efforts initiated by private agencies and individuals, and both should continue to play a vital role, it is nevertheless necessary and appropriate for the Federal Government to accelerate its historic preservation programs and activities, to give maximum encouragement to agencies and individuals undertaking preservation by private means, and to assist State and local governments and the National Trust for Historic Preservation in the United States to expand and accelerate their historic preservation programs and activities.

² The National Historic Preservation Act (16 U.S.C. 470 et seq.), as set forth herein, consists of Public Law 89-665 (October 15, 1966) and amendments thereto. This Act was substantially amended by the National Historic Preservation Act Amendments of 1980, Public Law 96-515 (December 12, 1980) and by the National Historic Preservation Act Amendments of 1992, Title XL of Public Law 102-575 (October 30, 1992). Those sections of the National Historic Preservation Act amendments dealing with completed reports are not included here. See also annual Department of the Interior appropriations acts for related matters.

Declaration of policy

SEC. 2 It shall be the policy of the Federal Government, in cooperation with other nations and in partnership with the States, local governments, Indian tribes, and private organizations and individuals to-

(1) use measures, including financial and technical assistance, to foster conditions under which our modern society and our prehistoric and historic resources can exist in productive harmony and fulfill the social, economic, and other requirements of present and future generations;

(2) provide leadership in the preservation of the prehistoric and historic resources of the United States and of the international community of nations and in the administration of the national preservation program in partnership with States, Indian tribes, Native Hawaiians, and local governments;

(3) administer federally owned, administered, or controlled prehistoric and historic resources in a spirit of stewardship for the inspiration and benefit of present and future generations;

(4) contribute to the preservation of nonfederally owned prehistoric and historic resources and give maximum encouragement to organizations and individuals undertaking preservation by private means;

(5) encourage the public and private preservation and utilization of all usable elements of the Nation's historic built environment; and

(6) assist State and local governments, Indian tribes and Native Hawaiian organizations and the National Trust for Historic Preservation in the United States to expand and accelerate their historic preservation programs and activities.

Landmarks,
designation

Title I

SEC. 101 (a) (1) (A) The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to expand and maintain a National Register of Historic Places composed of districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects significant in American history, architecture, archaeology, engineering, and culture.

(B) Properties meeting the criteria for National Historic Landmarks established pursuant to paragraph (2) shall be designated as "National Historic Landmarks" and included on the National Register, subject to the requirements of paragraph (6). All historic properties included on the National Register on the date of enactment of the National Historic Preservation Act Amendments of 1980 shall be deemed to be included on the National Register as of their initial listing for purposes of this Act. All historic properties listed in the Federal Register of February 6, 1979, as "National Historic Landmarks" or thereafter prior to the effective date of this Act are declared by Congress to be National historic Landmarks of national historic significance as of their initial listing as such in the Federal Register for purposes of this Act and the Act of August 21, 1935 (49 Stat.666); except that in cases of National Historic Landmark districts for which no boundaries have been established, boundaries must first be published in the Federal Register and submitted to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the United States Senate and to the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs of the United States House of Representatives.

Criteria for National Register
and National Historic Landmarks
and regulations

(2) The Secretary in consultation with national historic and archaeological associations, shall establish or revise criteria for properties to be included on the National Register and criteria for National Historic Landmarks, and shall also promulgate or revise regulations as may be necessary for-

(A) nominating properties for inclusion in, and removal from, the National Register and the recommendation of properties by certified local governments;

(B) designating properties as National Historic Landmarks and removing such designation;

(C) considering appeals from such recommendations, nomination, removals, and designations (or any failure or refusal by a nominating authority to nominate or designate);

(D) nominating historic properties for inclusion in the World Heritage List in accordance with the terms of the Convention concerning the Protection of the World Cultural and Natural Heritage;

(E) making determinations of eligibility of properties for inclusion on the National Register; and

(F) notifying the owner of a property, and any appropriate local governments, and the general public when the property is being considered for inclusion on the National Register, for designation as a National Historic Landmark or for nomination to the World Heritage List.

Nominations to the National Register

(3) Subject to the requirements of paragraph (6), any State which is carrying out a program approved under subsection (b), shall nominate to the Secretary properties which meet the criteria promulgated under subsection (a) for inclusion on the National Register. Subject to paragraph (6), any property nominated under this paragraph or under section 110 (a) (2) shall be included on the National Register on the date forty-five days after receipt by the Secretary of the nomination and the necessary documentation, unless the Secretary disapproves such nomination within such forty-five day period or unless an appeal is filed under paragraph (5).

Nominations from individuals and local governments

(4) Subject to the requirements of paragraph (6) the Secretary may accept a nomination directly from any person or local government for inclusion of a property on the National Register only if such property is located in a State where there is no program approved under subsection (b). The Secretary may include on the National Register any property for which such a nomination is made if he determines that such property is eligible in accordance with the regulations promulgated under paragraph (2). Such determinations shall be made within ninety days from the date of nomination unless the nomination is appealed under paragraph (5).

Appeals of
nominations

(5) Any person or local government may appeal to the Secretary a nomination of any historic property for inclusion on the National Register and may appeal to the Secretary the failure or refusal of a nominating authority to nominate a property in accordance with this subsection.

Owner participation in nomination process

(6) The Secretary shall promulgate regulations requiring that before any property or district may be included on the National register or designated as a National Historic Landmark, the owner or owners of such property, or a majority of the owners of the properties within the district in the case of an historic district, shall be given the opportunity (including a reasonable period of time) to concur in, or object to, the nomination of the property or district for such inclusion or designation. If the owner or owners of any privately owned property, or a majority of the owners of such properties within the district in the case of an historic district, object to such inclusion or designation, such property shall not be included on the National Register or designated as a National Historic Landmark until such objection is withdrawn. The Secretary shall review the nomination of the property or district where any such objection has been made and shall determine whether or not the property or district is eligible for such inclusion or designation, and if the Secretary determines that such property or district is eligible for such inclusion or designation, he shall inform the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, the appropriate State Historic Preservation Officer, the appropriate chief elected local official and the owner or owners of such property, of his determination. The regulations under this paragraph shall include provisions to carry out the purposes of this paragraph in the case of multiple ownership of a single property.

Regulations for curation, documentation, and local government certification

(7) The Secretary shall promulgate, or revise, regulations-

(A) ensuring that significant prehistoric and historic artifacts, and associated records, subject to section 110 of this Act, the Act of June 27, 1960 (16 U.S.C. 469c), and the Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979 (16 U.S.C. 470aa and following) are deposited in an institution with adequate long-term curatorial capabilities;

(B) establishing a uniform process and standards for documenting historic properties by public agencies and private parties for purposes of incorporation into, or complementing, the national historic architectural and engineering records within the Library of Congress; and

(b) (1) The Secretary, in consultation with the National Conference of State Historic Preservation Officers and the National Trust for Historic Preservation, shall promulgate or revise regulations for State Historic Preservation Programs. (C) provides for adequate public participation in the State Historic Preservation Program, including the process of recommending properties for nomination to the National Register.

Review of State programs

(2) (A) Periodically, but not less than every 4 years after the approval of any State program under this subsection, the Secretary, in consultation with the Council on the appropriate provisions of this Act, and in cooperation with the State Historic Preservation Officer, shall evaluate the program to determine whether it is consistent with this Act.

(B) If, at any time, the Secretary determines that a major aspect of a State program is not consistent with this Act, the Secretary shall disapprove the program and suspend in whole or in part any contracts or cooperative agreements with the State and the State Historic Preservation Officer under this Act, until the program is consistent with this Act, unless the Secretary determines that the program will be made consistent with this Act within a reasonable period of time.

(C) The Secretary, in consultation with State Historic Preservation Officers, shall establish oversight methods to ensure State program consistency and quality without imposing undue review burdens on State Historic Preservation Officers.

(D) At the discretion of the Secretary, a State system of fiscal audit and management may be substituted for comparable Federal systems so long as the State system-

(i) establishes and maintains substantially similar accountability standards; and

(ii) provides for independent professional peer review.

The Secretary may also conduct periodic fiscal audits of State programs approved under this section as needed and shall ensure that such programs meet applicable accountability standards.

responsibilities

(3) It shall be the responsibility of the State Historic Preservation Officer to administer the State Historic Preservation Program and to-

(A) in cooperation with Federal and State agencies, local governments, and private organizations and individuals, direct and conduct a comprehensive statewide survey of historic properties and maintain inventories of such properties;

(G) provide public information, education and training, and technical assistance in historic preservation;

(H) cooperate with local governments in the development of local historic preservation programs and assist local governments in becoming certified pursuant to subsection (c);

(J) advise and assist in the evaluation of proposals for rehabilitation projects that may qualify for Federal assistance.

(4) Any State may carry out all or any part of its responsibilities under this subsection by contract or cooperative agreement with any qualified nonprofit organization or educational institution.

(5) Any State historic preservation program in effect under prior authority of law may be treated as an approved program for purposes of this subsection until the earlier of-

(A) the date on which the Secretary approves a program submitted by the State under this subsection, or

(B) three years after the date of the enactment of the National Historic Preservation Act Amendments of 1992.

(6) (A) Subject to subparagraphs (C) and (D), the Secretary may enter into contracts or cooperative agreements with a State Historic Preservation Officer for any State authorizing such Officer to assist the Secretary in carrying out one or more of the following responsibilities within that State-

(ii) the Secretary has approved the State historic preservation program pursuant to section 101(b)(1) and (2);

(iii) the State Historic Preservation Officer agrees to carry out the additional responsibility in a timely and efficient manner acceptable to the Secretary and the Secretary determines that such Officer is fully capable of carrying out such responsibility in such manner;

(v) the Secretary and the State Historic Preservation Officer agree on the terms of additional financial assistance to the State, if there is to be any, for the costs of carrying out such responsibility.

(C) For each significant program area under the Secretary's authority, the Secretary shall establish specific conditions and criteria essential for the assumption by State Historic Preservation Officers of the Secretary's duties in each such program.

(D) Nothing in this subsection shall have the effect of diminishing the preservation programs and activities of the National Park Service.

Certification of local governments

(c) (1) Any State program approved under this section shall provide a mechanism for the certification by the State Historic Preservation Officer of local governments to carry out the purposes of this Act and provide for the transfer, in accordance with section 103(c), of a portion of the grants received by the States under this Act, to such local governments. Any local government shall be certified to participate under the provisions of this section if the applicable State Historic Preservation Officer, and the Secretary, certifies that the local government-

Where there is no approved State program, a local government may be certified by the Secretary if he determines that such local government meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) through (E); and in any such case the Secretary may make grants-in-aid to the local government for purposes of this section.

Participation of certified local governments in National Register
nominations

(2) (A) Before a property within the jurisdiction of the certified local government may be considered by the State to be nominated to the Secretary for inclusion on the National Register, the State Historic Preservation Officer shall notify the owner, the applicable chief local elected official, and the local historic preservation commission. The commission, after reasonable opportunity for public comment, shall prepare a report as to whether or not such property, in its opinion, meets the criteria of the National Register. Within sixty days of notice from the State Historic Preservation Officer, the chief local elected official shall transmit the report of the commission and his recommendation to the state Historic Preservation Officer. Except as provided in subparagraph (B), after receipt of such report and recommendation, or if no such report and recommendation are received within sixty days, the State shall make the nomination pursuant to section 101(a). Laws Governing National Historic Landmarks

National Historic Landmarks are buildings, historic districts, structures, sites, and objects that possess exceptional value in commemorating or illustrating the history of the United States. They are so designated by the Secretary of the Interior after identification by National Park Service professionals and evaluation by the National Park System Advisory Board, a committee of scholars and other citizens. The inventory of nationally significant properties begun in 1935 was eventually expanded by the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 and was incorporated into the newly created National Register of Historic Places.

When the National Historic Landmark program was enacted, it was designed, in part, to identify nationally significant properties which might be considered for inclusion in the National Park System. However, it became apparent over the years that Federal ownership of all nationally significant properties was not practical or economically feasible. Therefore, the development of alternative means for ensuring the preservation of National Historic Landmarks became necessary. Today, the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended, is the basic Federal law for identification, designation, and protection of National Historic Landmarks. Section 1a of the National Park Service Organic Act directed the Secretary of the Interior to submit an annual report to Congress identifying National Historic Landmarks that exhibit known or potential damage or threats to their integrity and Section 9 of the Mining in the National Parks Act of 1976 requires consultation with the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation to protect Landmarks threatened with destruction by surface mining activities. Using the full variety of Federal preservation laws, including the Internal Revenue Code, the National Park Service has developed a number of innovative programs to provide some measure of preservation assistance to owners of National Historic Landmarks.

While the Historic Sites Act of 1935 and the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended, remain the underlying authority for the National Historic Landmarks program, the text of those laws is not repeated in this chapter; refer to previous chapter (Laws Governing National Historic Preservation Programs) for appropriate statutory provisions.

Section 1a of the National Park Service Organic Act, Additional Areas for National Park System (16 U.S.C. 1a-5) ⁴

Investigate, study,

significance

Reports to Speaker of the House and President of the Senate

Annual listing, transmittal to Speaker of the House and President of the Senate

Printing as House

The Secretary of the Interior is directed to investigate, study, and continually monitor the welfare of those areas whose resources exhibit qualities of national significance and which may have potential for inclusion in the National Park System. At the beginning of each fiscal year, the Secretary shall transmit to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the President of the Senate, comprehensive reports on each of those areas upon which studies have been completed. Each such report shall indicate and elaborate on the theme(s) which the area represents as indicated in the National Park System Plan. On this same date, and accompanying such reports, the Secretary shall transmit a listing, in generally descending order of importance or merit, of not less than twelve such areas which appear to be of national significance and which may have potential for inclusion in the National Park System. Threats to resource values, and cost escalation factors shall be considered in listing the order of importance or merit. Such listing may be comprised of any areas heretofore submitted under terms of this section, and which at the time of listing are not included in the National Park System. Accompanying the annual listing of areas shall be a synopsis, for each report previously submitted, of the current and changed condition of the resource integrity of the area and other relevant factors, compiled as a result of continual periodic monitoring and embracing the period since the previous such submission or initial report submission one year earlier. The Secretary is also directed to transmit annually to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the President of the Senate, at the beginning of each fiscal year, a complete and current list of all areas included on the Registry of Natural Landmarks and those areas of national significance listed on the National Register of Historic places which areas exhibit known or anticipated damage or threats to the integrity of their resources, along with notations as to the nature and severity of such damage or threats. Each report and annual listing shall be printed as a House document: Provided, That should adequate supplies of previously printed identical reports remain available, newly submitted identical reports shall be omitted from printing upon the receipt by the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives of a joint letter from the chairman of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs of the United States House of Representatives and the chairman of the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the United States Senate indicating such to be the case. For the purposes of carrying out the studies for potential new Park System units and for monitoring the welfare of those resources, there are authorized to be appropriated annually not to exceed $1,000,000. For the purposes of monitoring the welfare and integrity of the national landmarks, there are authorized to be appropriated annually not to exceed $1,500,000.

⁴ This section of Public Law 96-344 (September 8, 1980) is the current version of the reporting requirements to the Congress previously contained in Section 8 of the General Authorities Act Amendments of 1976, Public Law 94-458 (October 7, 1976). The National Park Service Organic Act is the short title for a much longer law that established the National Park Service 16 U.S.C. 1 (August 25, 1916) and continues to address park related matters.

Section 9 of the Mining in the National Parks Act of 1976⁵

Landmarks

Report to Advisory Council on Historic Preservation

SEC. 9. (a) Whenever the Secretary of the Interior finds on his own motion or upon being notified in writing by an appropriate scientific, historical, or archeological authority, that a district, site, building, structure, or object which has been found to be nationally significant in illustrating natural history or the history of the United States and which has been designated as a natural or historical landmark may be irreparably lost or destroyed in whole or in part by any surface mining activity, including exploration for or removal or production of minerals or materials, he shall notify the person conducting such activity and submit a report thereon, including the basis for his finding that such activity may cause irreparable loss or destruction of a national landmark, to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, with a request for advice of the Council as to alternative measures that may be taken by the United States to mitigate or abate such activity.

⁵ This title is not an official short title but is merely a popular name for the convenience of the reader; Section 9 has no official short title. Section 9 (16 U.S.C. 1908), as set forth herein, is contained in Public Law 94-429 (September 28, 1976).

Laws Governing the Federal Archeology Program

The preservation and protection of archeological resources presents a unique challenge because of the nature of the resources. They are generally not visible to the untrained eye, leading to unintended destruction; many are in isolated locations, making their identification and protection difficult. Finally, the value of many archeological resources stems from the scientific information they contain or their significance to Native American cultural and religious practices. The destruction and looting of early Native American sites and structures in the American Southwest became the impetus for enactment of the first general Federal preservation law, the Antiquities Act of 1906; this law provided protection for archeological resources on public lands, roughly one third of the nation. While statutes dedicated solely to archeological considerations and resources continue to be enacted, the national historic preservation laws listed previously also protect archeological resources.

Today, the primary means for protecting archeological resources is to leave them undisturbed whenever possible. When resources cannot be preserved in place, they are scientifically excavated, removed, and preserved in museums. To facilitate such protection, the principal Federal archeological preservation laws (the Reservoir Salvage Act, as amended by the Archeological and Historic Preservation Act of 1974 and other statutes, and the Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979) mandate identification, scientific investigation, and resource recovery by Federal agencies whose activities may cause the loss or destruction of archeological resources and authorize the expenditure of project funds for such activities.

The Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act establishes two main requirements. First, Federal agencies and museums receiving Federal funds are required to inventory individually Native American human remains and associated funerary objects and develop written summaries for unassociated funerary objects, sacred objects, and objects of cultural patrimony that are in the collections they own or control. Agencies and museums must notify Indian Tribes or Native Hawaiian organizations that appear to be culturally affiliated with the items of their holdings and offer them the opportunity to claim the remains and items. The second principal intention of the law is the protection, on Federal and Tribal land, of Native American graves and other cultural items still located within archeological sites. On Federal and Tribal lands, archeological investigations for planning or research purposes, or other land modifying activities that inadvertently discover cultural items require the Federal agency or Tribe involved to consult with affiliated or potentially affiliated Native Americans concerning the treatment and disposition of these items.

Penalties for destruction of antiquities

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any person who shall appropriate, excavate, injure, or destroy any historic or prehistoric ruin or monument, or any object of antiquity, situated on lands owned or controlled by the Government of the United States, without the permission of the Secretary of the Department of the Government having jurisdiction over the lands on which said antiquities are situated, shall upon conviction, be fined in a sum of not more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for a period of not more than ninety days, or shall suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2. Before any agency of the United States shall undertake the construction of a dam, or issue a license to any private individual or corporation for the construction of a dam, it shall give written notice to the Secretary of the Interior (hereafter referred to as the Secretary) setting forth the site of the proposed dam and the approximate area to be flooded and otherwise changed if such construction is undertaken: Provided, That with respect to any flood-water retarding dam which provides less than five thousand acre-feet of detention capacity and with respect to any other type of dam which creates a reservoir of less than forty surface acres the provisions of this section shall apply only when the constructing agency, in its preliminary surveys, finds, or is presented with evidence that historical or archeological materials exist or may be present in the proposed reservoir area.

Data recovery

SEC. 3. (a) Whenever any Federal agency finds, or is notified, in writing, by an appropriate historical or archeological authority, that its activities in connection with any Federal construction project or federally licensed project, activity, or program may cause irreparable loss or destruction of significant scientific, prehistorical, historical, or archeological data, such agency shall notify the Secretary, in writing, and shall provide the Secretary with appropriate information concerning the project, program, or activity. Such agency may request the Secretary to undertake the recovery, protection, and preservation of such data (including preliminary survey, or other investigation as needed, and analysis and publication of the reports resulting from such investigation), or it may, with funds appropriated for such project, program, or activity, undertake such activities. Copies of reports of any investigations made pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the Secretary, who shall make them available to the public for inspection and review.

⁷ This title is not the official short title but is merely a popular name used for the convenience of the reader. The Act is also commonly known as the "Archeological Recovery Act" or the "Moss-Bennett Act." The Archeological and Historic Preservation Act of 1974 (16 U.S.C. 469-469c), as set forth herein, consists of Public Law 86-532 (June 27, 1960) and amendments thereto.

The Secretary shall, unless otherwise mutually agreed to in writing, compensate any person, association, or public entity damaged as a result of delays in construction or as a result of the temporary loss of the use of private or any nonfederally owned lands.

SEC. 4. (a) The Secretary, upon notification, in writing, by any Federal or State agency or appropriate historical or archeological authority that scientific, prehistorical, historical, or archeological data is being or may be irrevocably lost or destroyed by any Federal or federally assisted or licensed project, activity, or program, shall if he determines that such data is significant and is being or may be irrevocably lost or destroyed and after reasonable notice to the agency responsible for funding or licensing such project, activity, or program, conduct or cause to be conducted a survey and other investigation of the areas which are or may be affected and recover and preserve such data (including analysis and publication) which, in his opinion, are not being, but should be, recovered and preserved in the public interest.

natural disaster

(b) No survey or recovery work shall be required pursuant to this section which, in the determination of the head of the responsible agency, would impede Federal or federally assisted or licensed projects or activities undertaken in connection with any emergency, including projects or activities undertaken in anticipation of, or as a result of, a natural disaster.

(c) The Secretary shall initiate the survey or recovery effort within sixty days after notification to him pursuant to subsection (a) of this section or within such time as may be agreed upon with the head of the agency responsible for funding or licensing the project, activity, or program in all other cases.

result of delay

(d) The Secretary shall, unless otherwise mutually agreed to in writing, compensate any person, association, or public entity damaged as a result of delays in construction or as a result of the temporary loss of the use of private or nonfederally owned land.

SEC. 5. (a) The Secretary shall keep the agency responsible for funding or licensing the project notified at all times of the progress of any survey made under this Act, or of any work undertaken as a result of such survey, in order that there will be as little disruption or delay as possible in the carrying out of the functions of such agency and the survey and recovery programs shall terminate at a time mutually agreed upon by the Secretary and the head of such agency unless extended by mutual agreement.

Repositories for relics and specimens

(b) The Secretary shall consult with any interested Federal and State agencies, educational and scientific organizations, and private institutions and qualified individuals, with a view to determining the ownership of and the most appropriate repository for any relics and specimens recovered as a result of any work performed as provided for in this section.

(c) The Secretary shall coordinate all Federal survey and recovery activities authorized under this Act and shall submit an annual report at the end of each fiscal year to the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources of the Senate indicating the scope and effectiveness of the program, the specific projects surveyed and the results produced, and the costs incurred by the Federal Government as a result thereof.

(2) If, pursuant to section 6, the cultural affiliation with a particular Indian tribe or Native Hawaiian organization is shown with respect to unassociated funerary objects, sacred objects or objects of cultural patrimony, then the Federal agency or museum, upon the request of the Indian tribe or Native Hawaiian organization and pursuant to subsections (b), (c) and (e) of this section, shall expeditiously return such objects.

(3) The return of cultural items covered by this Act shall be in consultation with the requesting lineal descendant or tribe or organization to determine the place and manner of delivery of such items.

Laws Governing Federal Preservation Tax Incentives

Since 1976 the Internal Revenue Code has contained incentives to stimulate investment in income-producing historic buildings. Currently the Internal Revenue Code provides for a 20% investment tax credit for the substantial rehabilitation of historic buildings for depreciable uses such as for commercial, industrial, or rental residential purposes, and a 10% tax credit for the substantial rehabilitation for nonresidential but depreciable purposes of buildings built before 1936. There is no investment tax credit for owner-occupied residences. The preservation tax incentives are available for any qualified project that the Secretary of the Interior designates a certified rehabilitation of a certified historic structure. Certification requests are made through the appropriate State Historic Preservation Office to the National Park Service; to qualify for the tax incentives a property owner must have certification of both the historic structure and the completed rehabilitation.

The Internal Revenue Code also permits income and estate tax deductions for charitable contributions of partial interests in historic property. Generally, the donation of a qualified real property interest to preserve a historically important land area or a certified historic structure meets the test of a charitable contribution for conservation purposes. For purposes of the charitable contribution provisions only, a certified historic structure need not be depreciable to qualify, may be a structure other than a building, and may also be a remnant of a building, such as a facade, if that is all that remains, and may include the land area on which it is located.

The Internal Revenue Service is responsible for all procedures, legal determinations, and rules and regulations governing the tax consequences of the historic preservation provisions of the Internal Revenue Code that follow.

Section 47 of the Internal Revenue Code¹⁶ (Rehabilitation Credit)

SEC. 47. Rehabilitation Credit.

Amount of credit

(a) General Rule. For purposes of section 46, the rehabilitation credit for any taxable year is the sum of

(1) 10 percent of the qualified rehabilitation expenditures with respect to any qualified rehabilitated building other than a certified historic structure, and

(2) 20 percent of the qualified rehabilitation expenditures with respect to any certified historic structure.

Correct timing for claiming credit

(b) When Expenditures Taken into Account.

(1) In general. Qualified rehabilitation expenditures with respect to any qualified rehabilitated building shall be taken into account for the taxable year in which such qualified rehabilitated building is placed in service.

Progress expenditure-related recapture

(2) Coordination with subsection (d). The amount which would (but for this paragraph) be taken into account under paragraph (1) with respect to any qualified rehabilitated building shall be reduced (but not below zero) by any amount of qualified rehabilitation expenditures taken into account under subsection (d) by the taxpayer or a predecessor of the taxpayer (or, in the case of a sale and leaseback described in section 50(a)(2)(C), by the lessee), to the extent any amount so taken into account has not been required to be recaptured under section 50(a).

Qualified Rehabilitated Building

(c) Definitions. For purposes of this section

(1) Qualified rehabilitated building.

(A) In general. The term 'qualified rehabilitated building' means any building (and its structural components) if

(i) such building has been substantially rehabilitated,

(ii) such building was placed in service before the beginning of the rehabilitation,

No physical external wall test for certified historic structure

(iii) in the case of any building other than a certified historic structure, in the rehabilitation process

¹⁶ This section of Public Law 101-508, Title XI, subsection 11801(c)(8)(A), 11813(a) (November 5, 1990) is the current version of the certified rehabilitation section previously contained in Section 48(g) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. This title is not an official short title but is merely a popular name for the convenience of the reader; Section 47 has no official short title. Section 47 of the Internal Revenue Code (104 Stat. 1388-536, 1388-541), as set forth herein, is codified as 26 U.S.C. 47.

(I) the adjusted basis of such building (and its structural components), or

(II) $5,000.

The adjusted basis of the building (and its structural components) shall be determined as of the beginning of the 1st day of such 24-month period, or of the holding period of the building, whichever is later. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the determination of the beginning of the holding period shall be made without regard to any reconstruction by the taxpayer in connection with the rehabilitation.

(II) the Secretary of the Interior certified to the Secretary that such building is not of historic significance to the district, and

Certified rehabilitation

(C) Certified rehabilitation. For purposes of subparagraph (B), the term 'certified rehabilitation' means any rehabilitation of a certified historic structure which the Secretary of the Interior has certified to the Secretary as being consistent with the historic character of such property or the district in which such property is located.

(D) Nonresidential real property; residential rental property; class life. For purposes of subparagraph (A), the terms 'nonresidential real property,' 'residential rental property,' and 'class life' have the respective meanings given such terms by section 168.

Certified historic structure

(3) Certified historic structure defined.

(A) In general. The term 'certified historic structure' means any building (and its structural components) which

(i) is listed in the National Register, or

(ii) is located in a registered historic district and is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary as being of historic significance to the district.

Registered historic district

(B) Registered historic district. The term 'registered historic district' means

- (i) any district listed in the National Register, and
- (ii) any district

(I) which is designated under a statute of the appropriate State or local government, if such statute is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary as containing criteria which will substantially achieve the purpose of preserving and rehabilitation buildings of historic significance to the district, and

(II) which is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary as meeting substantially all of the requirement for the listing of districts in the National Register.

Progress expenditures

(d) Progress Expenditures.

(1) In general. In the case of any building to which this subsection applies, except as provided in paragraph (3)

(A) if such building is self-rehabilitated property, any qualified rehabilitation expenditure with respect to such building shall be taken into account for the taxable year for which such expenditure is properly chargeable to capital account with respect to such building, and

(B) if such building is not self-rehabilitated property, any qualified rehabilitation expenditure with respect to such building shall be taken into account for the taxable year in which paid.

(2) Property to which subsection applies.

(A) In general. This subsection shall apply to any building which is being rehabilitated by or for the taxpayer if

(i) the normal rehabilitation period for such building is 2 years or more, and

(ii) it is reasonable to expect that such building will be a qualified rehabilitated building in the hands of the taxpayer when it is placed in service.

Clauses (i) and (ii) shall be applied on the basis of facts known as of the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer in which the rehabilitation begins (or, if later, at the close of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies).

(B) Normal rehabilitation period. For purposes of subparagraph (A), the term 'normal rehabilitation period' means the period reasonably expected to be required for the rehabilitation of the building

(i) beginning with the date on which physical work on the rehabilitation begins (or, if later, the first day of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies), and

(ii) ending on the date on which it is expected that the property will be available for placing in service.

(3) Special rules for applying paragraph (1). For purposes of paragraph (1)

(A) Component parts, etc. Property which is to be a component part of, or is otherwise to be included in, any building to which this subsection applies shall be taken into account

(i) at a time not earlier than the time at which it becomes irrevocably devoted to use in the building, and

(ii) as if (at the time referred to in clause (i)) the taxpayer had expended an amount equal to that portion of the cost to the taxpayer of such component or other property which, for purposes of this subpart, is properly chargeable (during such taxable year) to capital account with respect to such building.

(B) Certain borrowing disregarded. Any amount borrowed directly or indirectly by the taxpayer from the person rehabilitating the property for him shall not be treated as an amount expended for such rehabilitation.

(C) Limitation for buildings which are not self-rehabilitated.

(i) In general. In the case of a building which is not self-rehabilitated, the amount taken into account under paragraph (1)(B) for any taxable year shall not exceed the amount which represents the portion of the overall cost to the taxpayer of the rehabilitation which is properly attributable to the portion of the rehabilitation which is completed during such taxable year.

(ii) Carry-over of certain amounts. In the case of a building which is not a self-rehabilitated building, if for the taxable year

(I) the amount which (but for clause (i)) would have been taken into account under paragraph (1)(B) exceeds the limitation of clause (i), then the amount of such excess shall be taken into account under paragraph (1)(B) for the succeeding taxable year, or

(II) the limitation of clause (i) exceeds the amount taken into account under paragraph (1)(B), then the amount of such excess shall increase the limitation of clause (i) for the succeeding taxable year.

(D) Determination of percentage of completion. The determination under subparagraph (C)(i) of the portion of the overall cost to the taxpayer of the rehabilitation which is properly attributable to rehabilitation completed during any taxable year shall be made, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, on the basis of engineering or architectural estimates or on the basis of cost accounting records. Unless the taxpayer establishes otherwise by clear and convincing evidence, the rehabilitation shall be deemed to be completed not more rapidly than ratably over the normal rehabilitation period.

(E) No progress expenditures for certain prior periods. No qualified rehabilitation expenditures shall be taken into account under this subsection for any period before the first day of the first taxable year to which an election under this subsection applies.

(F) No progress expenditures for property for year it is placed in service, etc. In the case of any building, no qualified rehabilitation expenditures shall be taken into account under this subsection for the earlier of

(i) the taxable year in which the building is placed in service, or

(ii) the first taxable year for which recapture is required under section 50(a)(2) with respect to such property, or for any taxable year thereafter.

(4) Self-rehabilitated building. For purposes of this subsection, the term 'self-rehabilitated building' means any building if it is reasonable to believe that more than half of the qualified rehabilitation expenditures for such building will be made directly by the taxpayer.

(5) Election. This subsection shall apply to any taxpayer only if such taxpayer has made an election under this paragraph. Such an election shall apply to the taxable year for which made and all subsequent taxable years. Such an election, once made, may be revoked only with the consent of the Secretary.

Section 170(h) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986¹⁷ (Qualified Conservation Contributions)

SEC. 170(h) Qualified Conservation Contribution

(1) In General. For purposes of subsection (f)(3)(B)(iii), the term "qualified conservation contribution" means a contribution

- (A) of a qualified real property interest,
- (B) to a qualified organization,
- (C) exclusively for conservation purposes.

Qualified real property interests

(2) Qualified Real Property Interest. For purposes of this subsection, the term "qualified real property interest" means any of the following interest in real property:

- (A) the entire interest of the donor other than a qualified mineral interest,
- (B) a remainder interest, and
- (C) a restriction (granted in perpetuity) on the use which may be made of the real property.

(3) Qualified Organization. For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "qualified organization" means an organization which

- (A) is described in clause (v) or (vi) of subsection (b)(1)(A), or
- (B) is described in section 501(c)(3) and
 - (i) meets the requirements of section 509(a)(2), or
 - (ii) meets the requirements of section 509(a)(3) and is controlled by an organization described in subparagraph (A) or in clause (i) of this subparagraph.

Conservation purposes

(4) Conservation Purpose Defined.

(A) In general. For purposes of this subsection, the term "conservation purpose" means

- (i) the preservation of land areas for outdoor recreation by, or the education of, the general public,
- (ii) the protection of relatively natural habitat of fish, wildlife, or plants, or similar ecosystem,
- (iii) the preservation of open space (including farmland and forest land) where such preservation is
 - (I) for the scenic enjoyment of the general public, or
 - (II) pursuant to a clearly delineated Federal, State, or local governmental conservation policy, and will yield a significant public benefit, or
- (iv) the preservation of an historically important land area or a certified historic structure.

(B) Certified Historic Structure. For purposes of subparagraph (A)(iv), the term "certified historic structure" means any building, structure, or land area which ¹⁷ This title is not an official short title but is merely a popular name for the convenience of the reader; Section 170(h) has no official short title. Section 170(h) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (94 Stat. 3204), as set forth herein, is codified as 26 U.S.C. 170(h).

(i) is listed in the National Register, or

(ii) is located in a registered historic district (as defined in 47(c)(3)(B) and is certified by the Secretary of the Interior to the Secretary as being of historic significance to the district.

A building, structure, or land area satisfies the preceding sentence if it satisfies such sentence either at the time of the transfer or on the due date (including extensions) for filing the transferor's return under this chapter for the taxable year in which the transfer is made.

Conveyance in perpetuity

(5) Exclusively for Conservation Purposes. For purposes of this subsection

(A) Conservation Purposes Must Be Protected. A contribution shall not be treated as exclusively for conservation purposes unless the conservation purpose is protected in perpetuity.

(B) No Surface Mining Permitted.

(i) In general. Except as provided in clause (ii), in the case of a contribution of any interest where there is a retention of a qualified mineral interest, subparagraph (A) shall not be treated as met if at any time there may be extraction or removal of minerals by any surface mining method.

(ii) Special rule. With respect to any contribution of property in which the ownership of the surface estate and mineral interests were separated before June 13, 1976, and remain so separated, subparagraph (A) shall be treated as met if the probability of surface mining occurring on such property is so remote as to be negligible.

(6) Qualified Mineral Interest. For purposes of this subsection, the term "qualified mineral interest" means

(A) subsurface oil, gas or other minerals, and

(B) the right to access to such minerals.

Other Major Federal Historic Preservation Laws

In addition to the basic authorities governing the historic preservation activities under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior, the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 obligates Federal agencies to consider the environmental effects of their projects as part of the Federal planning process. Important historic and cultural aspects of our national heritage are explicitly included as elements of our national environment that merit preservation in accordance with the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act. The Act also directs Federal agencies to consult with agencies having special expertise (National Park Service and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation) as part of the environmental impact statement process.

In addition, there are a number of other laws which direct specific Federal agencies to consider historic preservation in conjunction with their own mandated programs. The most important of these involve the Department of Transportation, the General Services Administration, and the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (Amtrak). Both Amtrak and the General Services Administration are directed to give special consideration to the use of historic or architecturally significant properties. The Amtrak Improvement Act of 1974 authorizes the Federal railroad transportation agencies and the National Endowment for the Arts to provide both grants and technical assistance to public and private organizations and entities for the preservation and reuse of historic railroad stations by the "conversion of railroad passenger terminals into intermodal transportation terminals and civic and cultural activity centers." The Public Buildings Cooperative Use Act of 1976 authorizes the General Services Administration to "acquire and utilize space in suitable buildings of historical, architectural or cultural significance unless such space would not prove feasible and prudent."

One of the strongest Federal historic preservation protections is known as Section 303 of the amended Department of Transportation Act. Under this provision, the Department of Transportation is prohibited from using any historic sites (private or public) for Federal or Federally-assisted highway purposes unless (1) there is no prudent and feasible alternative to the use of such land, and (2) all possible planning to minimize harm is accomplished.

Finally, there are myriad federal housing and community development laws, primarily involving the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the various Federal credit institutions, which are too numerous to include in this publication. The programs authorized under these laws generally include: (1) Federal loan insurance or guarantees from conventional lending institutions; (2) Federal regulation of the credit and banking industry; (3) Federal grants for community development; (4) Federal assistance to local agencies for public housing; and (5) Federal subsidies to low-income families for housing. Information on these laws may be obtained from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Section 303 of the Amended Department of Transportation Act¹⁸

SEC. 303. Policy on lands, wildlife and waterfowl refuges, and historic sites

(a) It is the policy of the United States Government that special effort should be made to preserve the natural beauty of the countryside and public park and recreation lands, wildlife and waterfowl refuges, and historic sites.

(b) The Secretary of Transportation shall cooperate and consult with the Secretaries of the Interior, Housing and Urban Development, and Agriculture, and with the States, in developing transportation plans and programs that include measures to maintain or enhance the natural beauty of lands crossed by transportation activities or facilities.

(c) The Secretary may approve a transportation program or project (other than any project for a park road or parkway under section 204 of title 23) requiring the use of publicly owned land of a public park, recreation area, or wildlife and waterfowl refuge of national, State, or local significance, or land of an historic site of national, State, or local significance (as determined by the Federal, State, or local officials having jurisdiction over the park, area, refuge, or site) only if—

(1) there is no prudent and feasible alternative to using that land; and

(2) the program or project includes all possible planning to minimize harm to the park, recreation area, wildlife and waterfowl refuge, or historic site resulting from the use.

Addendum

The Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA), Public Law 102-240, enacted in 1991 is a 6-year reauthorization of federally funded transportation programs. The Act restructures highways into one National Highway System and directs funding to states through a block-grant type program. Ten percent of the funding has been set aside for transportation enhancements and may be used on ten different activities, six of which are preservation related.

National Environmental Policy Act of 1969¹⁹

AN ACT To establish a national policy for the environment, to provide for the establishment of a Council on Environmental Quality, and for other purposes.

National Environmental Policy Act of 1969

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as the "National Environmental Policy Act of 1969."

PURPOSE

Purpose

Sec. 2. The purposes of this Act are: To declare a national policy which will encourage productive and enjoyable harmony between man and his environment; to promote efforts which will prevent or eliminate damage to the environment and biosphere and stimulate the health and welfare of man; to enrich the understanding of the ecological systems and natural resources important to the Nation; and to establish a Council on Environment Quality.

TITLE I

Declaration of National Environmental Policy

Policies and goals

Sec. 101(a) The Congress, recognizing the profound impact of man's activity on the interrelations of all components of the natural environment, particularly the profound influences of population growth, high-density urbanization, industrial expansion, resource exploitation, and new and expanding technological advances and recognizing further the critical importance of restoring and maintaining environmental quality to the overall welfare and development of man, declares that it is the continuing policy of the Federal Government, in cooperation with State and local governments, and other concerned public and private organizations, to use all practicable means and measures, including financial and technical assistance, in a manner calculated to foster and promote the general welfare, to create and maintain conditions under which man and nature can exist in productive harmony, and fulfill the social, economic, and other requirements of present and future generations of Americans.

(b) In order to carry out the policy set forth in this Act, it is the continuing responsibility of the Federal Government to use all practicable means, consistent with other essential considerations of national policy, to improve and coordinate Federal plans, functions, programs, and resources to the end that the Nation may

(1) fulfill the responsibilities of each generation as trustee of the environment for succeeding generations;

(2) assure for all Americans safe, healthful, productive, and esthetically and culturally pleasing surroundings;

(3) attain the widest range of beneficial uses of the environment without degradation, risk to health or safety, or other undesirable and unintended consequences;

(4) preserve important historic, cultural, and natural aspects of our national heritage, and maintain, wherever possible, an environment which supports diversity and variety of individual choice;

Preservation of historic, cultural,
and natural heritage

¹⁹ The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321, 4331, 4332), portions as set forth herein, consists of Public Law 91-190 (January 1, 1970), and amendments thereto.

(5) achieve a balance between population and resource use which will permit high standards of living and a wide sharing of life's amenities; and

(6) enhance the quality of renewable resources and approach the maximum attainable recycling of depletable resources.

(c) The Congress recognizes that each person should enjoy a healthful environment and that each person has a responsibility to contribute to the preservation and enhancement of the environment.

Administration

Sec. 102. The Congress authorizes and directs that, to the fullest extent possible: (1) the policies, regulations, and public laws of the United States shall be interpreted and administered in accordance with the policies set forth in this Act, and (2) all agencies of the Federal Government shall

(A) utilize a systemic, interdisciplinary approach which will insure the integrated use of the natural and social sciences and the environmental design arts in planning and in decisionmaking which may have an impact on man's environment;

(B) identify and develop methods and procedures in consultation with the Council on Environmental Quality established by title II of this Act, which will insure that presently unquantified environmental amenities and values may be given appropriate consideration in decisionmaking along with economic and technical considerations;

Environmental impact statements

(C) include in every recommendation or report on proposals for legislation and other major Federal actions significantly affecting the quality of the human environment, a detailed statement by the responsible official on

(i) the environment impact of the proposed action,

(ii) any adverse environmental effects which cannot be avoided should the proposal be implemented,

(iii) alternatives to the proposed action,

(iv) the relationship between local short-term uses of man's environment and the maintenance and enhancement of long-term productivity, and,

(v) any irreversible and irretrievable commitments of resources which would be involved in the proposed action should it be implemented.

Consultation with agencies having special expertise

Prior to making any detailed statement, the responsible Federal official shall consult with and obtain the comments of any Federal agency which has jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental impact involved. Copies of such statement and the comments and views of the appropriate Federal, State, and local agencies, which are authorized to develop and enforce environmental standards, shall be made available to the President, the Council on Environmental Quality and to the public as provided in section 552 of Title 5, United States Code, and shall accompany the proposal through the existing agency review processes;

Amtrak Improvement Act of 1974²⁰

Financial, technical, and advisory assistance

(i)(1) The Secretary shall provide financial, technical, and advisory assistance in accordance with this subsection for the purpose of (A) promoting on a feasibility demonstration basis the conversion of not less than three railroad passenger terminals into intermodal transportation terminals; (B) preserving railroad passenger terminals that have a reasonable likelihood of being converted or otherwise maintained pending the formulation of plans for reuse; (C) acquiring and utilizing space in suitable buildings of historic or architectural significance, unless the use of such space would not prove feasible and prudent compared with available alternatives; and (D) stimulating State and local governments, local and regional transportation authorities, common carriers, philanthropic organizations, and other responsible persons to develop plans for the conversion of railroad passenger terminals into intermodal transportation terminals and civic and cultural activity centers.

Criteria for assistance

(2) Financial assistance for the purposes set forth in paragraph (1)(A) of this subsection shall be granted in accordance with the following criteria: (A) the railroad terminal can be converted to accommodate such other modes of transportation as the Secretary deems appropriate, including motorbus transportation, mass transit (rail or rubber tire), and airline ticket offices and passenger terminal providing direct transportation to area airports; (B) the railroad passenger terminal is listed on the National Register of Historic Places maintained by the Secretary of the Interior; (C) the architectural integrity of the railroad passenger terminal will be preserved and such judgment is concurred in by consultants recommended by the Chairman of the National Endowment of the Arts and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation and retained for this purpose by the Secretary; (D) to the extent practicable, the use of station facilities for transportation purposes may be combined with use for other civic and cultural activities, especially when such use is recommended by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or the Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts, or the consultants retained by the Secretary upon their recommendation; and (E) the railroad passenger terminal and the conversion project meet such other criteria as the Secretary shall develop and promulgate in consultation with the Chairman of the National Endowment of the Arts and the Advisory council on Historic Preservation. Any grant made by the Secretary under this paragraph shall not exceed 80 per centum of the total cost of conversion of a railroad passenger terminal into an intermodal transportation terminal.

(3) Financial assistance for the purpose set forth in paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection may be granted in accordance with regulations, to any responsible person (including a governmental entity) who is empowered by applicable law, qualified, prepared, and committed, on an interim basis pending the formulation of plans for reuse, to maintain (and prevent the demolition, dismantling, or further deterioration of) a railroad passenger terminal: Provided That (A) such terminal has, in the opinion of the Secretary, a reasonable likelihood of being converted to or conditioned for reuse as an intermodal transportation terminal, a civic or cultural activities, center, or both; and (B) planning activity aimed at conversion or reuse has commenced and is proceeding in a competent manner. Funds appropriated for the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (1)(B) of this subsection shall be expended in the manner most likely to maximize the preservation of railroad passenger terminals capable reasonably of conversion to intermodal transportation terminals or terminals capable reasonably of conversion to intermodal transportation terminals or which are listed in the National Register of Historic Places maintained by the Secretary of the Interior or which are recommended (on the basis of architectural integrity and quality) by the Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts or the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. The amount of the Federal share of any grant under this paragraph shall not exceed 80 per centum of the total cost of such interim maintenance for a period not to exceed five years.

(4) Acquisitions made for the purpose set forth in paragraph (1)(C) of this subsection shall be made only after consultation with the chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation.

(5) Financial assistance for the purpose set forth in paragraph (1)(D) of this subsection may be granted, in accordance with regulations, to a qualified person (including a governmental entity) who is prepared to develop practicable plans meeting the zoning, land use, and other requirements of the applicable State and local jurisdictions in which the rail passenger terminal is located as well as requirements under this subsection; who shall incorporate into the designs and plans proposed for the conversion of such terminal into an intermodal transportation terminal, a civic or cultural center, or both, features which reasonably appear likely to attract private investors willing to undertake the implementation of such planned conversion and its subsequent maintenance and operation; and who shall complete the designs and plans for such conversion within such time period as the Secretary establishes. In making grants under this paragraph, the Secretary shall give preferential consideration to applicants whose completed designs and plans will be implemented and effectuated within three years after the date of completion. Funds appropriated for the purpose of this paragraph and paragraph (1)(D) of this subsection shall be expended in the manner most likely to maximize the conversion and continued public use of railroad passenger terminals which are listed in the National Register of Historic Places maintained by the Secretary of the Interior or which are recommended (on the basis of architectural integrity and quality) by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or the Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts. The amount of the Federal share of any grant under this paragraph shall not exceed 80 per centum of the total cost of the project or undertaking for which the financial assistance is provided.

Regulations

(6) Within ninety days after October 28, 1974, the Secretary shall issue, and may from time to time amend, regulations with respect to financial assistance under this subsection and procedures for the award of such assistance. Each application for assistance under this subsection shall be made in writing in such form and with such content and others submissions as the Secretary shall require.²¹

historic stations

(7) The National Railroad Passenger Corporation shall give preference to using station facilities that would preserve buildings of historical and architectural significance.
