NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

DEPARTMENT GAME AND FISH

To His Excellency, Hon. Hugh M. Dorsey, Governor, and to the Honorable Members of the General Assembly, of the State of Georgia:

I have the honor to present herewith the report of the Department of Game and Fish, for the year ending June 30th, 1920, making the Ninth Annual Report.

The season of 1919-20 shows increased receipts. The expenses of maintenance have also increased but the Department this year will turn over a surplus in excess of last season.

A full financial statement of the receipts and disbursements duly audited is attached to this report showing in detail the income and expense of the Department.

GENERAL.

In some few counties of the State difficulty is experienced in securing the necessary co-operation to enforce the law. It is, however, a source of gratification that this condition only exists in a limited number of counties while the law has grown in general favor all over the State, and especially in those counties in which stricter enforcement has been secured.

Insectivorous birds are today the greatest factor in helping to destroy the numerous insects that prey upon our crops. We have imported many new species of bugs and various parasites that imperil crops, and birds are the medium through which nature works to combat this foe. The Georgia law which absolutely protects insectivorous and song birds is gradually coming into general favor among the farmers as the economic value of bird life in preserving the food supply of the State becomes generally known.

We are making some advances. We have established a game preserve in conjunction with the Federal Government in that section of North Georgia known as the Appalachian Forest Reservation. The law needs some amendments at this session of the Legislature but it is a great step forward in securing a sanctuary for game from which the northeast section of our State may be restocked.

Reports from the different wardens as to the conditions and quantity of game have been very encouraging. A noticeable increase among the game birds has been reported. Wild turkey is more plentiful than for many years; deer in the southern part of the State are multiplying. It is true that this growth is slow but every condition points to our holding in reserve sufficient game for the benefit of all the citizens of the State.

Possibly no other asset we have will do as much to promote health and teach our young boys to live in the open as the game birds and animals of the State wisely and conservately used.

CHANGES IN THE LAW.

Since the last session of the Legislature the Supreme Court of the United States has held the Federal Migratory Bird Act valid. This changes the seasons in this State in several respects. The most noticeable of which are in our dove and migratory duck seasons. The decision makes the dove season from November 20th to January 31st and changes the duck season from November 20th to January 31st and cuts the bag limit to twenty-five per day.

This conflict between the State and Federal Law is very puzzling to a great many of our people. This decision of the Supreme Court is now supreme. In view of this situation it would seem wise that the Commissioner be granted authority to make the game season correspond with the Federal season upon such game as comes under the Federal Migratory Bird Act. It would be wiser to grant this authority than to attempt to change the law at each session of the Legislature as the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington is clothed with authority to make changes in the different seasons as he sees fit and has made three changes in the last eighteen months.

The possession of a State License will not prevent a citizen from being prosecuted by Federal Wardens and from being fined in the United States Court. In view of this it would seem to be wiser to have the laws the same so that no confusion might arise among the hunters.

FISH.

In my last report I stressed the pollution of streams. This pollution is going to be a greater menace every year. No words that I might use would be too strong to convey the idea of how detrimental this pollution is becoming in the destruction and depletion of fish in our fresh water streams. Again I urge upon you the necessity of the codification of our fish laws and a revision of same.

Fish laws are very much harder to enforce than the game laws. The Department is at a loss to understand this attitude on the part of the public but it remains a fact that it is exceedingly difficult to secure enforcement of the laws covering fresh water fish under the statutes as drawn at present.

At the last session of the Legislature a revision of the Salt Water Fish Act was made and it has seemed to meet with approval upon the coast of Georgia.

OYSTERS.

A bill was introduced at the last session of this Legislature to cover the oyster question in this State. This bill was drawn to form a basis upon which we could build for the future.

For ten years in Georgia we have discussed the oyster question. We have been deploring the conditions that exist but no steps have been taken to remedy these conditions. Those who have profited by the State's negligence in the matter have secured postponement after postponement of any action looking toward the protection of this valuable property for the citizens of the State. The submerged oyster lands now belonging to the State of Georgia have almost reached the point of depletion and we either must make provisions for the future in the next year or two or see these lands grow practically worthless.

The Department hopes very much that this bill will receive the approval of the members of the General Assembly.

FRESH WATER FISH.

This Department has tried in every way to assist the people of the State in securing fish for stocking purposes. We have helped citizens secure fish for the purpose of stocking private ponds and also certain fresh water streams in the State. This work has been accomplished by the aid of the Bureau of Fisheries in Washington and this Department desires to express its high appreciation of their assistance which alone made the work possible.

SALT WATER FISH INDUSTRY.

We also give in this report some figures showing the value of the Salt Water Fish Industry in this State. It is very difficult to secure exact data on this subject. We have taken this up with dealers in the State and with different Departments of the National Government which secure statistics, and we believe these figures are approximately correct. This includes all form of fish life and embraces fish, shrimp, oysters, terrapin and shad.

In presenting these figures the Department only tries to give the people of Georgia some general information as to the conditions that exist in our five coast counties and what a valuable asset the fish industry is to these counties. The principal places in this State in which the fish industry is located are Savannah, Brunswick, Darien, St. Marys, and Valona. We also have two islands on which canneries are situated, St. Catherine's and Wilmington. We have two menhaden plants at St. Marys. A great deal of the Georgia catch goes to Fernandina, Florida also.

These figures are given you in the table below.

SALT WATER FISH INDUSTRY, ESTIMATED VALUE.

Capital invested in boats, nets, plants, etc.....	$ 656,000.00
Value of manufactured products, including men-
haden	841,242.00

Value of catch sold raw, oysters, shrimp, shad, crabs, terrapin, and other fish.....	690,340.00
Total	$1,531,582.00

The Department desires to thank the Governor for the active and unfailing interest he has always shown in the work that has been undertaken by us. The press of the State has been very generous in giving us all the publicity possible and in carrying the news from the Department at all times and we desire to acknowledge the obligation. Many of the school teachers in the State have co-operated in every way possible.

The Department lives solely through the support and active interest of the sportsmen of Georgia and all true sportsmen have shown a wonderful spirit of co-operation since I have been Commissioner.

The County Wardens of the State deserve special consideration. They are often abused, frequently get little co-operation in their home counties and yet receive scant remuneration for giving largely of their time in the work of preserving the game and fish life of the State. The Commissioner desires to express his gratitude to this loyal band of wardens who have sustained him all during the present year.

The Department still believes that better enforcement of the law would be secured if we were able to hire one or two men who would be able to go from county to county in the State co-operating with the local wardens and doing their best in ferretting out and punishing offenders against the law.

This Department has always received courteous and considerate treatment at the hands of the Legislature and we especially desire to thank the Committee on Game and Fish both from the Senate and the House for their interest in this work last session.

S. J. SLATE, Commissioner.
